

Mobile Post Office Society announces Transit Postmark Collector V72 #1

The Winter issue of "Transit Postmark Collector," the award-winning journal of the Mobile Post Office Society is in the mail. In this issue:

- Sidney Fingerhood (1926-2020) is memorialized. Sid was a long-time RPO clerk and stalwart of the Society.
- "News From the Cities" continues Stan Bednarczyk's study of Chicago Streetcar RPO postmarks.
- Nancy Clark writes of the European and North American Railway in Maine.
- The Traveling Post Offices of New Zealand and related stamps of New Zealand are featured in the recurring column, "Topically TPO."
- Will Keller's continuing writing details one of the last Highway Post Offices created, the Charlotte & Augusta HPO in North Carolina and Georgia.
- "The Visitors" by Cary Johnson describes the saga of "The Ghost Line" - a branch Railroad line in Michigan that was the subject of guerilla action.
- Four new members joined the Society.
- 48 previously unreported postmarks are pictured.
- The regular Mail Auction for MPOS members contains 140 lots closing February 23, all pictured on the MPOS web site at <http://tinyurl.com/auct227>
